

The Frederick Henry Prince Memorial Fund Proposal Application Process

The fund will award direct grants through a Request for Proposal (RFP) process. The proposal format is given below.

Responding organizations must complete the cover page and have it signed by the organization's official representative (i.e.: chief executive or financial representative).

Proposals received after the official closing date will be disqualified.

Grantees are expected to submit a final report prior to the following year's grant making cycle. We ask for a one-page document that shares project results, impact on youth, and detail on expenditures.

Proposal Guidelines

General Requirements

Proposals will be accepted between January 1, 2023 through January 31, 2023. Proposals are due electronically (PDF format) by 5 p.m. on January 31, 2023. Proposal applications will be reviewed in February 2023 and funding awards will be announced in March 2023. Format

Page Limits

The proposal should be single spaced in no smaller than 12-point type. We encourage you to be concise and direct in your narrative. The Fund's Advisory Committee is interested in projects that offer more options for children and youth to be active, healthy, and experience a greater and lasting degree of wellness.

The page limit depends on the amount requested:

- Small projects are defined as less than or equal to $5,000.00. Page limits for small projects are three pages, including the cover sheet.
- Large projects are defined as greater than $5,000.00. Page limits for large projects are four pages, including the cover sheet.

Proposal Submission

Organizations should submit their most compelling application in each category (small projects and large projects) in PDF format via email to fhpmemfund@lifespan.org
